Item 4 Advisory Business

A. About The Appleton Group, LLC

The Appleton Group, LLC (ADVISER) is an independent Registered Investment Advisor (RIA), offering objective and unbiased wealth management services to all investment management clients. We are compensated solely for the advisory services we provide to our clients, and are in no way compensated by commissions of any kind. As a small privately held firm, we are solely focused on providing investment advisory and management services and helping the investment community build and manage more consistent and profitable portfolios. We became registered as an investment adviser with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (“the 1940 Act”) in December 2003. We are notice filed in the state of Wisconsin and all other states that we are required to be noticed filed.

B. Advisory Services

Adviser provides professional, full-time investment management services for a wide variety of clients. Our firm focuses on the task of producing meaningful investment returns over time while simultaneously managing the risk of significant declines along the way.

C. Third Party Money Manager Program Relationships

ADVISER may serve as a third party money manager, wrap-fee manager or sub-advisor in investment management programs sponsored by unaffiliated investment advisors. In these programs, ADVISER provides asset management services or model portfolios and receives a percentage of the total fee charged by the unaffiliated investment advisor, which retains the remainder of the fee. A complete description of each of each program is described in each sponsor’s disclosure brochure.

Separately Managed Accounts

ADVISER’s primary investment offerings are in the form of Separately Managed Accounts. These offerings are simply private accounts owned by an investor in which all securities are owned directly by the investor and managed by ADVISER. Each separately managed account follows a specific investment strategy, and the performance of the separate account is reported to the investor on a regular basis. Each separately managed account is held at an independent custodian (such as Charles Schwab), which provides periodic brokerage statements directly to our clients in addition to our firm’s quarterly performance report. Both the holdings and performance of each of our client accounts may be audited on a periodic basis by an independent, certified public accounting firm (at no cost to the client).

ADVISER offers a suite of separately managed account strategies:

Risk-Managed Strategies - Appleton Group Portfolio (+ Moderate and Conservative variations), Tax Managed Growth + Conservative variation), Wisconsin Focus, U.S. Sectors and Managed Income composites serve are our firm’s risk-managed portfolio lineup. These managed portfolios use the Appleton Group Wealth Management Discipline™ only, and are typically used for 50 – 100% of an investor’s portfolio. Each portfolio is fully diversified using a variety of Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs) or individual stocks, and are managed using our firm’s proprietary trend-following discipline. Each portfolio has an extensive history of measurable performance through both cooperative and uncooperative market environments.

Risk-Accepting Strategies – The Appleton Group offers a suite of three traditional “buy & hold” asset allocation portfolios comprised extensively of no transaction fee exchange-traded funds (ETFs). Available in three “flavors” (Aggressive, Moderate and Conservative), these portfolios are designed primarily for young investors with limited assets or for investors with a very long time-horizon and a high tolerance for risk.

Hybrid Strategies – Our firm offers a complete suite of age-based allocation portfolios that combine both risk-managed and risk accepting strategies into a single portfolio. Designed for every stage of an investor’s life, these portfolios overweight risk-accepting strategies for younger investors and overweight risk-managed strategies for investors nearing or already in retirement.

Employer Sponsored Qualified Retirement Plan Program

The Appleton Group Employer Sponsored Qualified Retirement Plan Program has been one of our firm's most successful investment programs. It offers the following professional investment advisory services to plan sponsors, plan participants:

Investment Services. Investment advisory consulting services to aid in establishing and documenting processes for establishing a plan's asset allocation and evaluating, selecting, monitoring and replacing investment options and providers.

Employee Education Services. Online and print resources, group meetings and one-on-one consulting services to encourage enrollment and help participants choose appropriate deferral rates and investment elections.

Fiduciary Services. Assist Plan Sponsor in fulfilling a plan's compliance with ERISA fiduciary requirements including ERISA 404(c) compliance reviews and ERISA 3(38) fiduciary services.

General Advisory Service Disclosures

ADVISER's Advisory Service Agreement remains in force as long as mutually agreed to by Client and The Appleton Group, LLC. The Agreement may be terminated at any time, by any of the parties to this Agreement, for any reason, upon 30 days written notice to the other parties. Upon termination, ADVISER' (and Referral Advisor, if applicable) agrees to refund to Client that portion of Client's prepaid fee for which no services have been provided.

ADVISER has over $146,000,000 of assets under discretionary management in its investment management services as of December 31, 2017. ADVISER does not manage assets on a non-discretionary basis.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation

Fee Schedule Disclosures

ADVISER provides investment management services. ADVISER manages client accounts for a percentage of the assets under its management. As compensation for the advisory services that ADVISER provides to clients during each forthcoming quarterly time period, client pays ADVISER a fee on the first business day of each calendar quarter. Unless otherwise agreed, the following fee schedule applies:

Separately Managed Accounts

Investment Advisory Fees - Private Client Service

Managed Assets	Annual Advisory Fee
$0 - $4,999,999	1.00%
$5,000,000 - $19,999,999	0.70%
$20,000,000 +	0.50%

Maximum Investment Management Fees within Separate Managed Accounts

Strategy	Investment Management Fee
Core Portfolio	0.40%
Asset Allocation Portfolios	0.40%
Focus Portfolios	0.40%
Traditional Portfolios	0.00%

Third Party Money Manager Program Relationships

The range of fees for these programs is generally between 1% & 3%, of which, ADVISER receives up to .60% of the fee. Similar services may be available elsewhere for lower fees and changes. A complete description of each program and program agreement termination provision is described in each sponsor's disclosure brochure.

Employer Sponsored Qualified Retirement Plan Program

Investment Advisory Fee Schedule

An annualized fee of up to 1.00% on Plan assets that are not segregated into self-directed brokerage accounts.

General Advisory Service Fee Disclosures

“Assets Under Management” is defined to include: all investments and securities (including both taxable and tax-deferred), trusts, stock options, retirement plans, IRA’s, custodial accounts, investment real estate, limited partnerships, and variable insurance products. Assets Under Management does not include: Client’s personal use assets (such as residences and vehicles), collectibles (such as artwork and coins), defined benefit retirement plans, social security benefits, certain real estate, and closely held business interests.

Client’s fee will be determined by combining the fair market value (measured on the last business day of the prior calendar quarter) of all of Client’s Assets Under Management. As Client’s assets actually get transferred over to ADVISER’s control, or whenever Client makes a deposit in excess of $10,000, partial time periods will be billed proportionally.

Clients who choose to have multiple investment strategies (including multiple portfolio designs, multiple implementations and multiple reviews, rebalancings, reports, revisions, and reallocations) will pay separate quarterly fees, on each strategy. Client agrees to authorize custodian(s) of Client’s money, to withdraw fees from Client’s account(s) and then electronically transfer these fees to Appleton Group, LLC, unless otherwise agreed.

Client agrees to pay ADVISER a late penalty in the amount of $100 per month or 2% per month, whichever is greater, for any fees or expense reimbursements that ADVISER receives more than ten business days late. Client agrees to pay all ADVISER’s reasonable attorneys fees and collection costs if ADVISER has uncollected accounts-receivable from Client for more than a month. Client acknowledges that ADVISER will immediately stop providing all counsel services (including financial planning, portfolio design, asset allocation, rebalancing, and performance reporting) in the event that ADVISER has uncollected accounts-receivable from Client for more than a month.

For additional information on other types of types of fees or expenses that may be incurred in managing client accounts please refer to Item 12 Brokerage Practices - Other Expenses and Charges.

Item 6 Performance Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

ADVISER does not conduct any performance based fee advisory business or activities.

Item 7 Types of Clients

ADVISER generally provides investment advice to the following:

- Individuals
- High net worth individuals
- Pension plans/profit sharing plans
- Foundations/charities
- Government/municipal
- Financial Planning Services
- Selection of Other Advisers/Solicitors

ADVISER manages Separate accounts exclusively on a discretionary trading basis. ADVISER’s minimum investment amount for establishing and maintaining an account is $200,000 and an Employer Sponsored Qualified Retirement Plan is $1,000,000. Exceptions may be granted to this minimum.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Investment Philosophy - The Appleton Group Wealth Management Discipline™ is designed to address an investor's desire to achieve useful, meaningful portfolio returns over time with only as much investment risk as is absolutely necessary along the way. It targets net portfolio returns over time that are considered generally necessary for an individual investor to maintain distributions in retirement, for endowments/pensions to meet spending goals in perpetuity, and for pre-retirees to achieve measurable progress toward saving goals.

The Appleton Group Wealth Management Discipline™ combines two fundamental aspects to successful portfolio management: 1) What to own, and 2) When to own. It addresses the importance of investing in both "at-risk assets" and "no-risk assets," and the importance of adjusting an investor's exposure to each in response to changing market conditions.

Implementation of The Appleton Group Wealth Management Discipline™ is designed to be systematic in nature, objective, dispassionate, and most importantly is designed to produce performance characteristics that are predictable and repeatable during various market environments. The discipline seeks to efficiently balance investment risk with investment reward, systematically exposing investors to more "at-risk assets" during periods of sustained market advances, and in turn to more "risk-free assets" during periods of sustained market declines. It seeks to limit portfolio losses during market environments that are unsupportive of at-risk assets, and seeks to achieve significant market correlation during environments that are supportive of at-risk assets.

Strategy - All of our investment offerings utilize our time-tested, proprietary investment strategy we call The Appleton Group Wealth Management Discipline™. This strategy carefully analyzes current price trends for a wide variety of growth market segments, including U.S. Equities, Foreign Emerging Markets, U.S. Real Estate, Commodity-based Equities, and High Yield Bonds. Our exposure to each of these holdings is adjusted in real time as market conditions change.

During sustained market advances, we will often have significant exposure to these growth segments. However, during sustained market declines, our exposure to each segment will be either reduced significantly or eliminated altogether in favor of low risk and/or no risk investment options (such as bonds and cash).

This flexible approach to investment management has demonstrated significant advantages over less-flexible strategies, with a well-documented history of higher returns over our history with significantly less risk along the way.

ADVISER invests in cash, cash equivalents, bonds, shares of common or preferred stock, unit investment trusts, ETF's, mutual funds, options, variable annuity sub-accounts, or other alternative securities.

Risk of Loss on all ADVISER Investment Strategies - The Appleton Group Wealth Management Discipline™ prioritizes risk and return management over tax efficiency. The Appleton Group Wealth Management Discipline has a measurable performance history through all three market environments (rising markets, falling markets and stagnant markets). This performance history is rigorously documented, and includes all necessary metrics for advisors and investors to objectively evaluate the benefits and limitations of the discipline. Such metrics include mean return (net performance), beta (risk), alpha (value added by manager), standard deviation (predictability), and R-squared (market dependence needed for returns).

There are risks inherent in all financial decisions and transactions. ADVISER cannot guarantee the current or future client account performance, or the success of any investment decision or strategy that ADVISER may use with client accounts or assets. Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. Past performance is no assurance of future performance.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

ADVISER has no disciplinary information history to disclose. ADVISER Associates have no disciplinary information history to disclose.

Item 10 Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Conflicts Regarding Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

ADVISER addresses these conflicts through the following Compliance Oversight Policies:

Conflicts of Interest - ADVISER must disclose any potential or actual conflicts of interest when dealing with clients.

ADVISER Obligations - ADVISER and its IARs are subject to the following specific obligations when dealing with clients:

- The duty to have a reasonable, independent basis for its investment advice;
- The duty to ensure that investment advice is suitable to meeting the client's individual objectives, needs, and circumstances; and,
- A duty to be loyal to clients.

Mark Scheffler, Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Compliance Officer (CCO) of ADVISER and his designees are responsible for supervising ADVISER advisory accounts, planning activities and referrals to from other investment advisers. The main reports and documents the CCO reviews to supervise/review these activities are Investment Services Agreement, new account documents, trade tickets, confirmations, brokerage statements, performance reports, daily activity reports and planning documents. The CCO may delegate certain advisory compliance responsibilities to designees that report to him.

Item 11 Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

The Investment Advisers Act of 1940 imposes a fiduciary duty on investment advisers. As a fiduciary, ADVISER has a duty of utmost good faith to act solely in the best interests of each of our clients. Our clients entrust us with their funds, which in turn places a high standard on our conduct and integrity. Our fiduciary duty compels all ADVISER Associates to act with the utmost integrity in all of our dealings. This fiduciary duty is the core principle underlying this Code of Ethics and represents the expected basis of all of our dealings with our clients.

This Code of Ethics consists of the following core principles:

- ADVISER Associates are expected to conduct their personal securities transactions in accordance with the ADVISER Personal Trading Policy and will strive to avoid any actual or perceived conflict of interest with the client.
- ADVISER, ADVISER Associates or related persons of ADVISER may invest in the same securities that ADVISER invests in client accounts.
- The interests of clients will be placed ahead of ADVISER's or any ADVISER Associate's own investment interests.
- ADVISER Associates will not take inappropriate advantage of their position with ADVISER.
- ADVISER Associates are expected to act in the best interest of each of our clients.
- ADVISER Associates are expected to comply with federal and state securities laws.
- ADVISER's CCO supervises the trading activities of all ADVISER Associates.

This Code of Ethics response is only intended to provide clients and potential clients with a summary description of ADVISER's Code of Ethics. If current clients or potential clients want to review ADVISER's entire Code of Ethics they may obtain a copy of it by calling ADVISER at 920.993.7727 or writing to Mark Scheffler, The Appleton Group, LLC, 100 W. Lawrence Street 3rd Floor, Appleton, WI 54911, or e-mailing ADVISER at info@appletongrouponline.com.

Item 12 Brokerage Practices

Custodian/Broker-Dealer Arrangements - If the Custodian/Broker-Dealer for an account is ADVISER directed, then ADVISER shall consider a number of factors including, without limitation, best execution, the overall direct net economic impact on account assets (including commissions which may not be the lowest available, but which will not be higher than the generally prevailing competitive range) the financial stability of the Custodian/Broker-Dealer, the efficiency with which the transaction is effected, the ability to effect the transactions where complicating factors are involved, the availability of the Custodian/Broker-Dealer to stand ready to execute possible difficult transactions in the future, and other matters involved in the receipt of brokerage and research services.

ADVISER may recommend that clients establish brokerage accounts with the Schwab Institutional division of Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (Schwab), a registered broker-dealer, member SIPC, to maintain custody of clients' assets and to effect trades for their accounts. ADVISER is independently owned and operated and not affiliated with Schwab. Schwab provides ADVISER with access to its institutional trading and custody services, which are typically not available to Schwab retail investors. These services generally are available to independent investment advisors on an unsolicited basis, at no charge to them so long as a total of at least $10 million of the advisor's clients' assets is maintained in accounts at Schwab Institutional.

Schwab's services include brokerage, custody, research, and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment. For ADVISER's client accounts maintained in its custody, Schwab generally does not charge separately for custody but is compensated by account holders through commissions or other transaction-related fees for securities trades that are executed through Schwab or that settle into Schwab accounts.

Schwab also makes available to ADVISER other products and services that benefit ADVISER but may not benefit its clients' accounts. Some of these other products and services assist ADVISER in managing and administering clients' accounts. These include software and other technology that provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements); facilitate trade execution (and allocation of aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts); provide research, pricing information and other market data; facilitate payment of ADVISER fees from its clients' accounts; and assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting. Many of these services generally may be used to service all or a substantial number of ADVISER accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab Institutional. Schwab Institutional also makes available to ADVISER other services intended to help ADVISER manage and further develop its business enterprise. These services may include consulting, publications and conferences on practice management, information technology, business succession, regulatory compliance, and marketing. In addition, Schwab may make available, arrange and/or pay for these types of services rendered to ADVISER by independent third parties. Schwab Institutional may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to Appleton Group, LLC. While as a fiduciary, ADVISER endeavors to act in its clients' best interests, and ADVISER recommendation that clients maintain their assets in accounts at Schwab may be based in part on the benefit to ADVISER of the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by Schwab, which may create a potential conflict of interest.

Client Direct Accounts - If the Custodian/Broker-Dealer for an account is client directed, the client will have the responsibility to negotiate the terms and arrangements with the Custodian/Broker-Dealer and ADVISER will not seek better execution services through other Custodian/Broker-Dealers.

Trading – ADVISER allocates trades to clients in a fair and equitable manner that will be applied consistently to all clients. Personal accounts of ADVISER, its investment advisor representatives, Associates and family members will not be treated more favorably than any other client account. ADVISER will make every attempt to completely fill all block order trades. In the event where there is a partial fill of the trade the trade will be allocated as follows: Small (100 share) and odd lot positions filled in entirety then prorated across the remaining shareholders.

All variable annuities managed within the Asset Management Program by ADVISER will have their variable annuity sub-account transactions processed through the Custodian of record for the variable annuities.

Trading Error Corrections - It is ADVISER's policy to ensure clients are made whole following a trade error. Specifically, when a trade error occurs in a client account that results in a loss, ADVISER will reimburse the client. If the trade error was made in a client account resulting in a gain, the client will keep the gain, unless the Custodian/Broker-Dealer keeps the gain. If the trade error was made in a block trading account and client funds were not at risk and the trade results in a gain, the Custodian/Broker-Dealer keeps the gain.

Client Direct Accounts- If the Custodian/Broker-Dealer for an account is client or Referral Advisor directed, the client or Referral Advisor will have the responsibility to negotiate the terms and arrangements with the Custodian/Broker-Dealer and ADVISER will not seek better execution services through other Custodian/Broker-Dealers.

Other Expenses and Charges - Custodian/Broker-Dealer fees, expenses, and commission charges can either be separate and distinct from the fees charged by ADVISER, or included within the client account Management Fees. The Custodian/Broker-Dealer fee, expense, and commission charge arrangement is disclosed to the client when the client enters into an Asset Management Program Agreement with ADVISER.

Clients may incur certain charges imposed by third parties other than ADVISER in connection with investments placed in the account, including but not limited to IRA and Qualified Retirement Plan Fees, and other Custodian/Broker-Dealer fees, expenses, and commission; and mutual fund and variable annuity internal expenses, commissions, sales loads, 12(b)-1 fees, trail fees and surrender charges. ADVISER does not participate in such compensation arrangements. The purchase of mutual fund shares in client's account can result in certain processing and mailing charges that are not incurred when shares are purchased directly from the mutual fund company.

Item 13 Review of Accounts

Reviews - Mark Scheffler, Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Compliance Officer (CCO) of ADVISER and staff designees are responsible for reviewing ADVISER's asset management accounts. As a general rule, ADVISER will obtain financial information from prospective clients to determine the appropriate ADVISER Investment Strategies. ADVISER's CCO or staff designees will perform the initial review of client accounts.

ADVISER will consult with clients regarding client accounts as the need arises or when special situations are noted. Clients establishing and maintaining Asset Management Program accounts will have their accounts reviewed at least quarterly unless changes in a client's financial situation or changes in the market conditions trigger a more frequent review. Both the holdings and performance of each of our client accounts may be audited on an annual basis by an independent, certified public accounting firm (at no cost to the client).

Reports - Clients receive quarterly performance reports from ADVISER describing account performance and holdings. Clients will receive a monthly account statement from the Custodian showing the account activity as well as positions held in the account at month's end. No less than on a quarterly basis, client will receive a statement from the Custodian for transactions and holdings.

The main reports and documents the CCO or the firms designees, review are completed asset management agreements, new account documents, suitability updated forms, transaction reports, monthly/quarterly Custodian/Broker-Dealer statements, and performance reports.

Item 14 Custody

ADVISER has custody of client assets due primarily to our ability to deduct fees from client accounts. ADVISER is considered to have custody of a limited number of accounts for clients enrolled in our firm's managed 401(k) program. The Broker-Dealer/Custodian of client assets sends account statements directly to clients. Clients receive account statements from the Broker-Dealer/Custodian. Clients should carefully review those statements. Under no other circumstance does ADVISER have custody of client assets.

Item 15 Investment Discretion

ADVISER uses discretionary trading authority to buy, sell and direct investments within the client accounts, including reinvestment of proceeds from assets sold and income attributable to client accounts, in cash, cash equivalents, bonds, shares of common or preferred stock, unit investment trusts, ETF's, mutual funds, options, variable annuity sub-accounts, or other alternative securities selected by ADVISER for client accounts.

Item 16 Voting Client Securities

As a general rule, ADVISER will not exercise proxy-voting authority over the securities held in client accounts or qualified retirement plan assets. The obligation to vote client proxies shall at all times rest with the clients. However, clients may contact ADVISER for advice or information about a particular proxy vote. ADVISER shall not be deemed to have proxy-voting authority solely as a result of providing such advice to a client. Should ADVISER inadvertently receive proxy information for a security held in a client account or qualified retirement plan, such information shall be immediately forwarded to client.

Item 17 Financial Information

ADVISER has no financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to clients.

PRIVACY POLICY NOTICE

The Appleton Group, LLC takes your privacy very seriously. We have a commitment to protect your privacy and the confidentiality of your personal and financial information.

At The Appleton Group, our most important asset is our relationship with you. We are honored that you have entrusted us with your financial affairs, and we are committed to safeguarding the privacy of the information we maintain about you. Establishing and adhering to an effective privacy policy is an important part of that dedication. As providers of products and services that involve compiling personal and sometimes, sensitive information, protecting the confidentiality of that information has been, and will continue to be, a top priority throughout Appleton Group and its affiliated custodians. Whether you are a current client, former client, or a potential client, we believe that you should know about the information we collect, the measures we take to safeguard it, and the situations in which we might share information with select business partners. This notice explains how The Appleton Group handles and protects the personal information we collect. Our privacy promise derives from basic principles of trust, ethics, and integrity:

1. We collect only the client information necessary to consistently deliver responsive products and services.

The Appleton Group collects information that helps serve your financial needs; provide high standards of customer service; develop and offer new products or services for our customers and potential clients; and fulfill legal and regulatory requirements. The information collected generally varies depending on the products or services you request and may include:

- Information provided in personal interviews or on applications and related forms, for example, name, address, Social Security number and annual income.
- Responses from your employer or benefit plan sponsor regarding any investment products we may provide, for example, name, age, address and Social Security number.
- Information about your relationships with us, such as products or services purchased, and account balances (if applicable), which we may obtain in writing, during telephone or Internet transactions.

2. We maintain safeguards to ensure information security.

We have implemented security standards and processes including physical, electronic and procedural safeguards to ensure that access to client information is limited to select employees who may need it to do their jobs. They are required to respect the confidentiality of all client information. The images on our backup tapes are encrypted and password protected.

We have adopted a Cybersecurity Policy Plan. The objective of the plan is to:

1. Ensure the security and confidentiality of client information;
2. Protect against any anticipated threats or hazards to the security or integrity of such information;
3. Protect against unauthorized access to or use of such information that could result in substantial harm or inconvenience to any client.

The Plan shall provide standards and procedures for the protection of client privacy and security of our internal computer systems. Each employee will be required to review this plan and attend training to understand their responsibility. The standards and procedures will incorporate our current computer inventory and configurations, client data sources and service provider information as supporting documentation for this plan.

The Plan will incorporate the following items:

Identify – this section provides our understanding of what the cybersecurity risks are to our systems, assets, data and capabilities.

Protect- this area details the appropriate safeguards to ensure delivery of critical infrastructure services.

Detect – develop and implement the appropriate activities to identify the occurrence of a cybersecurity event.

Respond – take action regarding a detected cybersecurity event.

Recover – develop and implement the appropriate activities to maintain plans to recover and restore any services that were impaired due to a cybersecurity event.

Within each of the above items there are categories and subcategories of activities that need to be completed to insure that an adequate amount of protection and security is provided.

3. We limit how, and with whom, we share client information.

First and foremost, we do not sell lists of our clients, nor do we disclose client information to marketing companies with the exception of companies we may hire to provide specific services for us, as described below. We will share client information only for the following reasons: When it is necessary to disclose information to third parties to effect, administer, or enforce a transaction that you request or authorize — for example, when we provide information we collect to a custodian company from which you wish to purchase shares. When you have requested a insurance product, the insurance company may use a common application; in this way, the information you provide and authorize us to obtain may subsequently be used by one or all of these companies as necessary to determine and offer to you the product most appropriate for your needs. We may be required by law or regulation to disclose information to third parties for example, in response to a subpoena; to prevent fraud; and to comply with rules of, or inquiries from, industry regulators. In some cases, we may share information we collect for example, name, address, age and Social Security number, with other businesses such as our securities broker-dealers/custodians or insurance companies and agencies to process or service a transaction you have requested, to facilitate enhanced client services.

The Appleton Group will not share information about you with another company unless you so direct us, or unless we ask you beforehand and give you a chance to say no. Furthermore, as permitted by federal and state laws, we may share or exchange information with companies engaged to work with us, such as:

- Third-party administrators and vendors hired to effect administer or enforce a transaction that you request or authorize; to develop or maintain software; or to perform marketing research.
- Financial services entities, insurance companies, or securities broker-dealers/custodians, with which we have joint marketing agreements. The information we may share is described in Section 1.
- We won't share information about you with third parties to market products to you. We uphold these privacy principles throughout The Appleton Group and with our business partners.

Companies with which we share client information are required to maintain the confidentiality of that information. In those states where privacy or consumer information laws are more restrictive than our privacy policy, we will restrict our sharing of your information to comply with state law. We will reaffirm this policy annually in writing, as long as you maintain an ongoing relationship with The Appleton Group. This policy may change from time to time. We will notify you in writing when a change occurs. In this notice of our privacy promise, the words "you" and "client" are used to mean any individual who obtains or has obtained a financial product or service from The Appleton Group that is to be used primarily for personal, family or household purposes.

4. Greater Accuracy Means Better Protection:

We are committed to keeping accurate, up-to-date records to help ensure the integrity of the information we maintain about you. If you identify an inaccuracy in this information, or if you need to make a change to it, please contact us promptly by calling The Appleton Group at 920-993-7727 or 1-866-993-7727.
